

CALL FOR PAPERS: COVID-19 OUTBREAK

The Singapore Medical Journal (SMJ) is calling for papers relating to the COVID-19 outbreak.

The SMJ will consider Original Articles and Reviews that focus on epidemiology, diagnosis, treatment, complications, infection control, experimental therapies and pharmaceuticals, HCW training, and other areas related to the coronavirus outbreak.

To ensure rapid dissemination of these articles, we aim to accelerate the peer-review and publication of accepted articles within one month of submission. Accepted articles will also be e-published ahead of print and indexed in PubMed within seven days of acceptance.

We invite researchers and colleagues who are considering or already preparing a manuscript on this topic to submit your work to the SMJ.

Yours sincerely

Dr Shawn Vasoo

Specialty Editor (Infectious Diseases)
